Survival at Sea Address from Royal NZ Yacht Squadron

Tuesday 24 November at Royal New Zealand Yacht Squadron's Ballroom, Westhaven at 7.30pm.

We have been fortunate to secure Professor Michael Tipton from the University of Portsmouth to give an address on the Essentials of Sea Survival.

The address is particularly relevant, for not just our offshore sailors but all who go to sea.

This keynote speaker is entertaining and extremely informative following more than 17 years of research into all aspects of sea survival, physiological changes when someone is in the water, cold shock and life jacket development. In short, how we drown and what we can do to increase our survival chances.

Maritime New Zealand is bringing Professor Tipton to address the Water Safety NZ conference in Wellington and we have been able to secure him for this one lecture in Auckland.

Professor Tipton is world renowned in this field and many will want to hear this address.

Please RSVP to Jennifer at 3606800 as numbers attending may have to be restricted.

New Zealand International Dragon Association Launches Website

In response to growing interest and enquiry about the Dragon Class in New Zealand, the NZIDA has today launched its website: www.dragonclass.org.nz

President, Frans de Court said "Following our successful 80th Anniversary Regatta at Mahurangi earlier this year, we are keen to continue raising the profile of the Dragon Class in New Zealand and showcase the appeal of the Dragons' one class racing – her beautiful lines, good rules and tight competition."

The NZIDA website provides essential information on the origins of the Dragons, the New Zealand Fleet and current racing programme – together with an invitation to any sailor keen to experience a Dragon to contact the NZIDA.

In complementing the NZIDA on its website, the International Dragon Association Chairman, Rob Campbell, said "New Zealand has an enviable sailing reputation internationally and it is exciting to see the work being done to build the Dragon Class in New Zealand. We look forward to seeing a strong New Zealand presence at the Dragon World Cup in Melbourne in 2011."

The Stewart 34's celebrating 50 years of Sailing

On Friday 13th November at 4:45pm the RNZYS is running a special Rum Race for the Stewart 34's. Already well over 20 boats have entered. There will be after race drinks in the RNZYS Dinghy Locker and no doubt the reminiscing will start there.

On Saturday 14th November there will be light hearted races off Westhaven and an official "Sail Past" where nearly 30 boats will parade up the harbour. In the evening a function at the Floating Pavilion in the Viaduct Basin is shaping up to be a massive event. All 400 tickets to this function were SOLD by 20th September. However the Floating Pavilion will be open all day from 9am till 5pm for anyone who wishes to come and perhaps sail on a Stewart 34. Brad Butterworth will be in attendance and is the guest speaker in the evening. There is also a strong possibility that Ron Holland will also attend.

While you're there, make sure you have a look at the Superb "Stewart 34 – The First 50 years"

Anniversary book. The book has comments from Brad Butterworth, Russell Coutts, Chris Dickson, Ron Holland, with an introduction (printed below) from Peter Montgomery. Also included with the book is a very interesting DVD showing some superb footage of the 1987 (best ever) Citizen Watch Match Race Series as well as other Stewart 34 highlights.

The book was authored by George Backhus, an American yachting journalist who has spent the last 12 summers in NZ. He will be present to sign copies of the book.
